

FIRE OR BURGLAR ALARM COMPANIES

BusinessSafe is based on the idea that certain businesses and industries may be exploited by terrorists who portray themselves as honest customers seeking to purchase, lease or somehow appropriate certain materials, licenses and/or services to covertly further a terrorist plot.

The following are general indicators of potential terrorist planning or activities. Alone, each indicator can result from legitimate recreational or commercial activities or criminal activity not related to terrorism; however, multiple indicators combined with other information may possibly suggest a terrorist threat.

- Physical surveillance, which may include note taking or the use of binoculars, cameras or maps near key facilities.
- Attempts to gain sensitive information regarding key facilities or personnel through personal contact or by telephone, mail or e-mail.
- Attempts to penetrate or test physical security and response procedures at key facilities.
- Attempts to improperly acquire explosives, weapons, ammunition, dangerous chemicals, flight manuals or other materials which could be used in a terrorist attack.
- Suspicious or improper attempts to acquire official vehicles, uniforms, badges, access cards or identification for key facilities.
- Presence of individuals who do not appear to belong in the workplace, business establishment or near a key facility.
- Behavior which appears to denote planning for terrorist activity, such as mapping out routes, playing out scenarios, monitoring key facilities and timing traffic flow or signals.
- Stockpiling suspicious materials or abandoning potential containers for explosives (e.g., vehicles or suitcases).

The following examples of activity relating to Fire or Burglar Alarm Companies, though not fully inclusive, may be of possible concern to law enforcement:

- Any unusual inquiries related to the adequacy of a particular alarm or fire system without the purchase of the item or an apparent legitimate need to know such information.
- Any unusual inquiries on how fire and/or burglar alarm systems work, are wired or may be neutralized in establishments.
- Any other unusual request for alarm or fire equipment without purchase.
- Any unusual request by individuals for the adequacy of close circuit television or videotaping equipment without a purchase or previous known installation in their residence.

- Specific site inquiries of landmarks or of critical infrastructures and its alarm, fire or security system in use.
- Unusual purchase of expensive video equipment that could be used for potential surveillance or counter surveillance use.
- Inquiries or purchases of alarm system components by an individual(s) vague or inconsistent of intrusion detection systems, particularly with respect to passive infrared sensors, motion detectors, microswitches, etc.

Your impressions and assessment based upon your professional business experience are extremely valuable and should help guide you in determining if a customer request, a fact pattern, or set of circumstances is unusual.

Please remember that the conduct of an individual will not necessarily be criminal in nature.
